LET'S FINISH NATIONAL WAR FUND DRIVE BY OCTOBER 15TH

Citizens of Hancock County were challenged early this week "to buckle down and finish our final National War Fund Drive before October 15" by Mrs. Doris M. Rea, chairman of the county's drive.

The county's third and final NWF drive got underway on October 1, and the chairman stated that reports indicate plenty of work remains before the county can report that it has achieved its goal.

Let's be generous in victory," the chairman stated. "Our fighting men and women, now men and women of peace, still need the services of the agencies in the National War Fund. Especially will they need the services of the USO, United Seamen's Service, and especially are the destitute in allied territories, ravaged by the war, in need of relief."

"We can conclude this drive before October 15 if everyone does his part. We can't afford to turn our backs on human suffering at this time. We must complete our task on the home front, and this final drive of the NWF is certainly our task on the home front, and this final drive of the NWF is certainly one of our war obligations."

The chairman also requested that the various community and district workers check their workers and report to county headquarters on the progress being made by the week end.

LESS THAN ONE-THIRD TO GET NEW AUTOMOBILES

This nation's automobile experts caution that only a fraction of those people desiring new cars will be able to get them within the next twelve months. In fact, it has been estimated that less than one-third of the public are to get new cars. Therefore, it is obvious that most cars now running must serve for a long time to come, and smart owners will keep their cars in first-class condition; safe to drive, and dependable.

Well aware of these conditions, local Ford Dealers have issued a series of advertisements in which they advise Ford owners to have their cars overhauled now. "Keep your Ford safe to drive—keep its re-sale value high" is the message issued by Ford Dealers. From the point-of-view of the car owner this is sound advice. Many needless accidents will be avoided by keeping all cars in excellent operating condition, and the waste of many dollars will be avoided by keeping cars in good shape and thus maintaining a higher re-sale value.

The automotive industry is making every effort to meet the gigantic demand for new cars, and experts expect Ford to build a surprisingly large percentage of new cars manufactured in the next twelve months. Yet Ford's production genius, great as it is, is not expected to do more than partly meet the demand for new cars. There were no new cars made during the war years, and this back-log demand is of proportions so large that it may take two years to satisfy everyone with a new automobile.

THEY NEED TO BE ENCOURAGED

WE have really had a treat during this week. We have been attending the meetings of the 4-H Club Boys and Girls in Hancock County. We have had an opportunity to sit and observe the young people at their meetings. To watch their demeanor, to see the sparkle in their eyes, to see the eagerness with which they have grasped every word of encouragement spoken to them, to see the satisfaction expressed on their countenances when they have felt that they had accomplished something worthwhile. It certainly would have made your blood tingle to be among this spirited young manhood and womanhood of your County for a while and hear their leaders tell of the wonderful work they are doing.

These boys and girls are the future men and women of our County. To them will be entrusted that leadership that is today in the hands of those who are gradually ebbing towards the shady side of life. To them will pass the job of carrying on where we have left off. These are our boys and girls. They should be given every opportunity to learn to do the things that will afford them a better position in life. They should be tutored to assume that leadership that will fall upon them in a short while. They should be encouraged to learn how to earn their own living, without being dependent upon another, or upon any governmental agency.

The work of the 4-H Clubs, gives to our boys and girls that particular training that will mean so much to them when they reach manhood and womanhood. They learn to do by doing. That is their slogan. We all know that that is the one way to know how to do things. That is to gain the practical knowledge. They encourage the youth of our Country to better their positions. To raise better livestock. To grow better gardens. To keep and have better homes. What greater teaching could our youths have than the pledge of the 4-H boys and girls "My head to clearer thinking, my heart to greater loyalty, my hands to larger service, and my health to better living, for my club, my community and my country."

We should thank God that we live in a country where our youths can receive the training and teachings such as they receive in 4-H work, in contrast to the many other youth organizations, throughout this war torn world, whose ideals were far less desirable, and which organizations had so much influence on other nations of the world.

Let us pledge ourselves that in the course of our endeavors to assist in the development of Hancock County that we shall not overlook this splendid organization of boys and girls, which now numbers nearly 400. That we will lend them every assistance possible. That we will afford them an opportunity to earn the small amount of money that it is necessary for them to have in the furtherance of their projects. That we will take more interest in their work. That we will try to visit with them at their meetings. If we do this we will be building in the future. We will be making an investment in the youth of our County, that will cost us only a little time. It will be the lowest priced but most wise investment you have ever made.

Now 4 Points For Used Fats

Help Increase Supplies of Soap and Other Peacetime Products By Saving More Used Fats

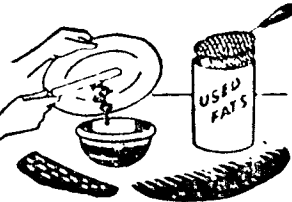

Industrial fats far short of last year! We are almost down to the bottom of the barrel. The nation's industrial fat supply is millions of pounds less than it was in 1944. We need fully as much as last year to help make the soaps and other civilian goods you want and need so badly. So...

If you want more soap and soap flakes... if you're dreaming of nylons, sheets, cotton fabrics and want them to hurry back to the store counter... you can help by saving those used kitchen fats as you never saved before! Save every drop, every day!

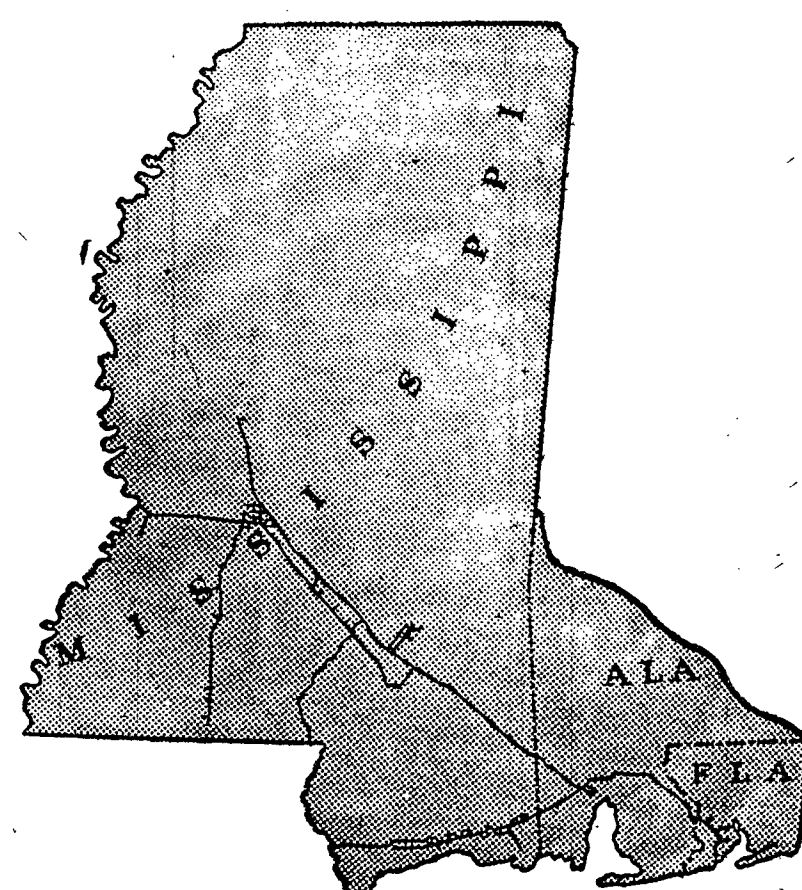

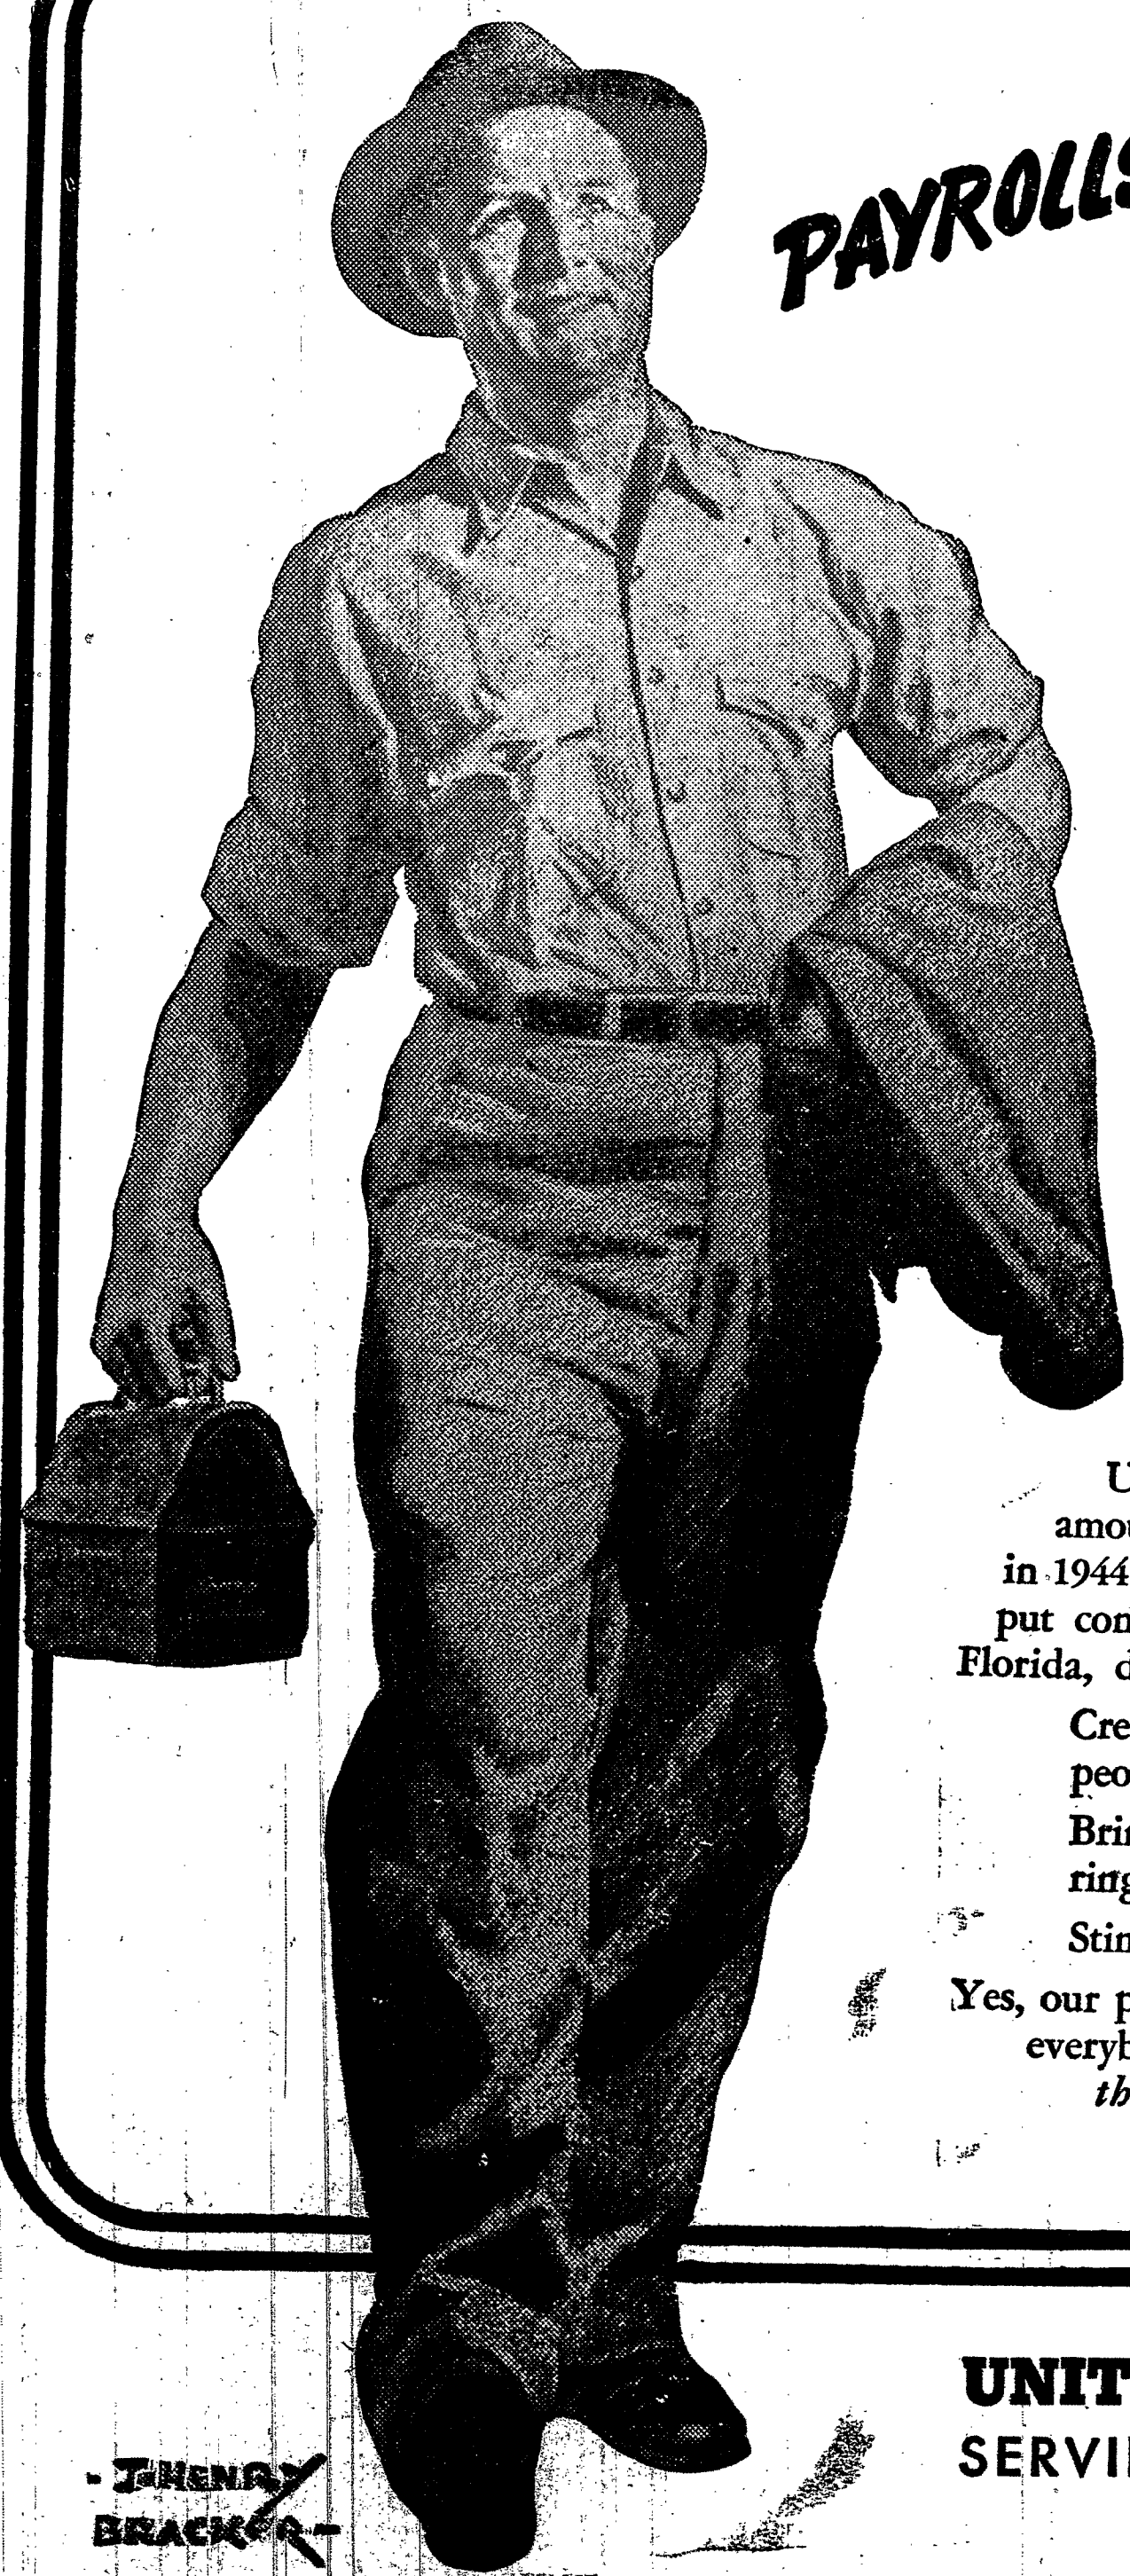

These fats are vitally necessary to help speed greater supplies of soaps and other things—like new cars, electric washers, refrigerators and tires. Industry must have these fats... to help get to you more quickly the peacetime products you want.

So skim and scrape just as you did so faithfully before V-J Day. To prove how important it is, your government has increased the point bonus. So please help! Keep on saving used fats! If you can't find a store that accepts used fats, call Home Demonstration or County Agent.

HISTORY OF ST. AUGUSTINE'S SEMINARY

During their early struggle to bring the light of the gospel to the Negroes in the Missions of Mississippi, the Divine Word missionaries came to realize more and more the great influence of the Negro Protestant ministers among their own people. They began to consider what a great and good influence zealous Catholic priests of the same race would have with Negroes. They thought of the wisdom of the Catholic Church in insisting that each people, each nation, each race being converted to the True Fold should have its own native sons as priests whenever and wherever possible. Such thoughts became more frequent as more and more obstacles to the conversion of the colored people of the South were thrown into the way of the missionaries.

At a meeting of the Divine Word priests in Mississippi in 1914 the question of Negro priests was discussed. From that time on the subject was never allowed to rest. The two most ardent advocates of a native clergy among American Negroes were Father Matthew Christman, S. V. D., pastor of Sacred Heart Church, Greenville, Miss., and Father James Wendel, S. V. D., pastor of St. Joseph's Church, Meridian, Miss. Of the two, Father Wendel seems to have been the more vocal and aggressive. He kept the question alive in an annual mission magazine which he published. He brought it to the fore in a booklet entitled "OUR NEGRO MISSIONS," which he wrote. He mentioned it in letters written to various clergymen. He discussed it in public. Public sentiment was divided, and Father Wendel encountered great and formidable opposition.

REV. JAMES WENDEL, S. V. D., who was a fearless and zealous advocate of an American Negro Catholic clergy and was instrumental in the founding of Saint Augustine Seminary. He died in February, 1920, just a few months before the Seminary opened.

Nevertheless Father Wendel, finally in 1919, approached Bishop Gunn of Natchez, Miss., for permission to open a seminary in his diocese for the training of colored students for the priesthood. Bishop Gunn was favorable, and later gave the permission officially to Very Rev. Peter Janser, S. V. D., provincial who thereupon called a meeting of the S. V. D. Southern missionary priests to discuss the method of procedure. In the beginning of 1920 the Superior General of the Society of the Divine Word gave his approval and the new project was ready to be launched.

It is no small tribute to the untiring faith and zeal of those first Divine Word missionaries that they, although being looked upon as foreigners, and having no available funds, should nevertheless, in the face of opposition and contrary sentiment and customs, courageously undertake, and expect to succeed with, a project so manifestly unpopular as the training of Negro boys for the priesthood. However, despite all opposition, they did succeed, with God's help.

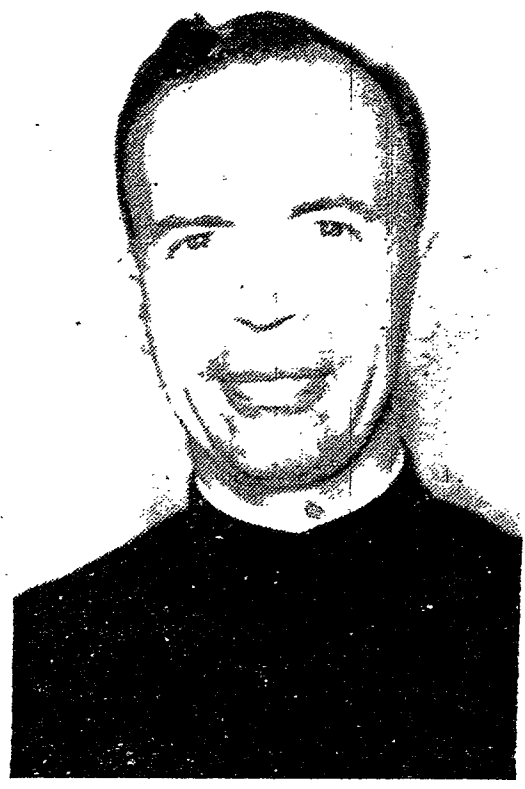

Participation in this success was denied to the one who had done so much to make it possible. Father Wendel died February 24, 1920, a few months before the new seminary was to open. Father Christman was put in charge of the undertaking.

REV. MATTHEW CHRISTMAN, S. V. D., Founder and First Rector of Saint Augustine Seminary.

Three separate gifts of $2000 each from Monsignor John Burke of New York, Mother Katherine Drexel and a Mr. Murphy gave the seminary its financial start.

The Sacred Heart Mission in Greenville, Miss., with its well-organized high school and spacious grounds was chosen as the temporary location of the seminary. Hence the first name of the seminary—Sacred Heart College.

Since the establishment of St. Augustine's Seminary 19 Negro priests have been ordained.

At present there are 44 students in the high school, 11 in novitiate, 7 in the Juniorate, and 6 in major seminary.

During the 25 years of its existence St. Augustine's Seminary has enrolled a total of 359 students. Of this number 2 died while students, 73 are still studying for the priesthood (13 in other seminaries), 6 changed over to the Brotherhood, (4 in the Society of the Divine Word and 2 in other religious orders) and 27 have been ordained as priests, (19 as S. V. D.'s, 7 as secular priests, and 2 as members of other religious orders). These add up to 109, just about 30 percent of the total of 359 students enrolled. These students are from 30 States, the District of Columbia, 2 U. S. Possessions and 10 other countries.

The important part played by the United States may be gauged from the fact that from 1854, when the first American priest, Father James Healy, was ordained, till the beginning of 1934, when the first class of St. Augustine's Seminary was ready for ordination—a span of 80 years—only 14 Negro priests had been ordained; while from 1934 till today—a period of only 11 years, almost twice that number—namely 26, have been ordained. All but 7 of these are products of St. Augustine's. In the United States today there are

In June the seminary was moved to its present location in Bay St. Louis, Miss., and was renamed St. Augustine's Seminary. The new seminary building, a substantial brick structure, which had been started in September, 1922, was dedicated by Bishop Gunn on September 16, 1923. There was a great turnout of the colored people along the Gulf Coast for this gala occasion. Many train coaches of people came from New Orleans alone.

THE MINOR SEMINARY

Twenty-two students enrolled in the seminary that year, and four priests composed the faculty.

The year 1926 saw the first class graduate from the six-year high school and college course. In September three of the four graduates entered the novitiate of the Society of the Divine Word then located in East Troy, Wis. On September 11, 1928, two of these three novices—Frater Maurice Rousseve and Frater Vincent Smith—made their first religious profession and thereby became the first Negro members of the Society of the Divine Word. That same year this class was combined with a second class which had just returned from the novitiate in Wisconsin. This was the birth of St. Augustine's Major Seminary.

On May 23, 1934, in the presence of a huge concourse of clergy, the Most Rev. Richard O. Gerow, ordained the first four Negro priests of St. Augustine's Seminary. But Father Christman was not present to rejoice with his spiritual sons. He had 21 Negro priests. Two have gone to Trinidad to do missionary work; one is in British Honduras. There are 3 working in Africa.

In 1934 the Society of the Divine Word founded the religious Brotherhood for colored young men at St. Augustine's Seminary. Two young men applied for admission that same year. Today they are in perpetual vows. At the present time the community of Brothers comprises 13 colored members.

Today the Society of the Divine Word has 30 Negro missions and a catechetical center in 4 archdioceses and 5 dioceses located in 8 States. Educational facilities for Negro youth include a major and minor seminary, 20 day schools, of which 11 have high school departments. Enrolled in these schools are 7,200 pupils taught by 145 religious Sisters and 30 lay teachers. In charge of these missions and schools, and caring for the souls of over 19,000 Negro Catholics are 62 priests of the Society of the Divine Word.

In January 1943 the Society throughout the world numbered over 7,500 persons, including 13 Bishops, 7 prelates Apostolic, 1,817 priests, 753 seminarians, 546 clerical novices, 1,746 brothers, 169 brother novices, 41 brother postulants 123 brother aspirants, and 2,300 preparatory students.

The Society's personnel in the U. S. A. in January 1945 included 189 priests, 85 scholastics, 24 juniors in college, 43 clerical novices, 127 brothers, 10 brother novices, 6 brother candidates, 40 high school students. There are 10 American chaplains in the Armed Forces, one of them a Negro priest, Captain Walter Bowman, S. V. D. who is the first of the only two colored Catholic Chaplains in the service.

The Apostolic Delegate, to the United States, the Most Reverend A. G. Cioffani, D. D., has sent the following message of Pope Pius XII. "I am indeed pleased to inform you that on this memorable occasion of the Silver Jubilee of the foundation of your Seminary, our Most Holy Father, Pope Pius XII, has very graciously deigned to impart to you the Rector, to all the members of the Faculty and the student body, as well as to all your friends and benefactors his special Apostolic Benediction. His Holiness wishes this Blessing to be a pledge of the graces which will come to yourself and to all those who devote themselves in a special manner to the spiritual welfare of the colored race, especially through such an effective means as the training of priests from their own ranks. In his first Encyclical, His Holiness expressed his paternal interest in this Apostolate by speaking of it at length, and in this Blessing which he grants you so wholeheartedly today, he repeats his exhortations to continued zeal in this field of priestly work so dear to his fatherly heart."

Here's Work For the Future

WE WANT every Mississippian to know our future plans. For Mississippi and the Telephone Company have been working closely together for many years.

"What's coming up?" Quite a lot—the greatest expansion program in the history of the telephone in Mississippi as soon as materials are available.

It means spending millions of dollars to provide telephones for all who have been waiting for them. This is one of our first jobs! A greatly expanded telephone program for our farmer friends is also in process. Expansion of long distance service is being scheduled too. It will include the installation of coaxial cables to handle more calls with speed and convenience for you, and provide more facilities for that exciting visual art—television. A mass of construction is to be done and a new service to motor vehicles is also in the offing.

What does it all add up to? For one thing, it means more opportunity for the returning veteran, for all Mississippians. It means an adequate telephone system for Mississippi and that is essential to the state's growth. Each gives impetus to the other, as our friendly relationship has in the past.

More work for the future. That's what it means, when you analyze it, and Mississippians have a knack for getting at the heart of things. They like to see the marshalling of Men, Money and Materials; that American combination which put Mississippi out in front, and keeps it there.

Yes, there's prosperity in work. And prosperity means happiness for Mississippians. As for the 3,280 men and women of the Telephone Company in Mississippi, we face the future with confidence!

"AFFAIRS OF SUSAN" SMASH COMEDY HIT WITH JOAN FONTAINE

At A. & G. Theatre This
Sunday and Monday

The A. & G. Theatre offers something new in screen entertainment Sunday and Monday. For one thing, "The Affairs of Susan," Hal B. Wallis release for Paramount, has Joan Fontaine playing the first real comedy role of her career and getting a kick out of it, too. For another thing, Miss Fontaine, as actress Susan Darrell, isn't content with one romance. She wants four and gets 'em—something a little different from the usual hollywood formula.

George Brent, Dennis O'Keefe, Walter Abel and Don DeFore are the four men with whom the unpredictable "Susie" has her fling before finally making up her mind. The narrowing-down process provides the audience with a laugh treat and, incidentally, gives Joan opportunity to wear glamorous gowns which reveal her to be quite an eye-ful.

Things start popping when Susan returns from an overseas tour and promises to march the aisle with airline big-wig Walter Abel. Then, Walter discovers Susan has had three other men in her life and decides to find out why her affairs with each of the others fizzled out. At Walter's bachelor dinner, the smitten trio unravels an expert in a series of flash-backs. However, all this doesn't help Walter who remains quite in the dark about his fiancée. He finds out—too late—when she picks the winner.

To get the pick of the male crop, Joan adopts four different personalities to please each of her four different suitors. Overnight, she changes from a naive home-body to a sophisticated glamour girl, then to an intellectual aesthete complete with horn-rimmed specs. Joan is equally convincing in all four roles.

This is Hal B. Wallis' first production for Paramount following on the heels of such hits as "Casablanca," "Watch on the Rhine," and "Yankee Doodle Dandy." William Selter turned out an expert in a series of flash-backs. However, all this doesn't help Walter who remains quite in the dark about his fiancée. He finds out—too late—when she picks the winner.

All the leads give excellent performances. Keep your eye on Don DeFore. He's heading stardom after this one. Also, orchids to Dennis O'Keefe who registers with a bang in the top role of his film career.

A Startling Suspense
Drama

"Uncle Harry" is a gripping suspense story, superbly told, and an exceptional motion picture from every audience angle. Directed by Robert Siodmak, who made "The Suspect," the new Universal drama comes to the Ortte Theatre.

A disquieting bond of affection between a brother and sister is a basis for the absorbing plot. George Sanders, co-starred with Geraldine Fitzgerald and Ella Raines, delivers to the fullest as the brother, Harry, displaying unsuspected versatility.

Miss Fitzgerald is equally forceful in the difficult role of the sister, Lettie, whose adoration becomes an obsession. Miss Raines matches the performances of her co-stars as the third corner of the triangle. She appears as the attractive New York fashion authority who falls in love with the brother.

Outstanding Drama
The consequent rivalry with its crashing climax, is screen drama of breathtaking calibre and amplified by the somber locale, a quaint New Hampshire township.
Other outstanding talent in the film includes Moyna Macgill, seen as an older sister, Sara Allgood, Harry Von Zell, Judy Clark and Samuel S. Hinds all deliver gener-

Is There any difference in savings banks?

For more than a number of years mutual savings banks in the State of Mississippi have gone thru every cycle of prosperity and depression without ever yet being compelled to tell their depositors, "We are sorry we cannot return your deposits." There is more to a savings bank than safety. There is sound counsel supplied by courteous officers, there is advice to those who have problems pertaining to the building of homes, travel, education, deaths, wills and a hundred and one other things that affect our daily lives.
